MCI names chief ethics officer

By Grant Gross
IDG News Service, 10/14/03

MCI, in an effort to distance itself from the accounting scandals that plagued the company when the it went by the name WorldCom, named a defense contractor veteran as its chief ethics officer.

Starting Tuesday, Nancy Higgins will be MCI's executive vice president of ethics and business conduct and chief ethics officer, reporting to MCI Chairman and CEO Michael Capellas. Capellas appointed an interim chief ethics officer in January after he took over the company in November, but Higgins is the first permanent chief ethics officer at MCI, still officially named WorldCom.

Higgins most recently served as vice president of ethics and business conduct for Lockheed Martin. Prior to that, Higgins was a senior corporate attorney with Boeing, where she headed the first company-wide ethics organization.

"Nancy brings a rare combination of direct experience in developing and overseeing large-scale ethics programs, a proven 10-year track record for creating best practices and, most importantly, an absolute passion for the job," Capellas said in a statement. "MCI strives to be a model of good corporate governance with best-in-class ethics compliance."

Capellas noted that MCI has taken several steps to build a culture centered on ethics, including:

- Ethics training for MCI's 55,000 U.S.-based employees and contractors.
- A company code of ethics, distributed to all employees.
- A "zero-tolerance policy" dictating that any suspected violation of MCI's code of ethics will be fully investigated and immediately dealt with.
- A confidential ethics hotline allowing employees to raise ethics or business conduct concerns.

MCI Issues November 2003 Monthly Operating Results

ASHBURN, Va., January 16, 2003 - MCI (WCOEQ, MCWEQ) today filed its November 2003 monthly operating report with the Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York. During the month of November, MCI recorded $1.79 billion in revenue versus $1.98 billion in October 2003, reflecting fewer business days during the month and non-recurring equipment sales in October 2003.

November's operating loss of $21 million was $14 million better than October, with lower access costs and a sales, general and administrative (SG&A) reduction of $144 million which more than offset the lower revenue levels.

The Company had a net loss in November of $23 million, an improvement of $171 million from October. The improvement resulted from lower restatement items compared to October.

During the month of November, MCI recorded capital expenditures of $90 million. November's cash balance increased to $5.1 billion from $5.4 billion in October.

The financial results discussed in the Monthly Operating Reports exclude the results of Embratel. On November 12, 2003, the Company announced its intentions to sell its investment stake in Embratel. Until MCI completes a thorough balance sheet evaluation, the Company will not issue a balance sheet or cash flow statement as part of its Monthly Operating Report.

The Monthly Operating Reports are available on MCI's Restructuring Information Desk at: <http://global.mci.com/news/Infod>. Based on the Company's confirmed Plan of Reorganization, holders of WorldCom preferred stock, WorldCom group common and MCI group common stock will not receive any value upon MCI's emergence from bankruptcy proceedings.
